And while I still wasn't able to paint realistically, I felt it was a lot easier and was a much more relaxing artistic outlet."

Inspiration:

For this project I chose my friend Josh Golan. He's a close friend that I met a few years back and we talk nearly everyday online. Online my friends and I call him "Tippy", I asked him if he was okay with my project being about him and he said yes, so I started creating and asking the interview questions. Through my questioning I was able to learn more about Josh than I already knew, and I was able to get deep insight into the things he does and enjoys doing. I learned how Josh got into playing video games online, and how he started by playing Team Fortress 2 which got him into playing games competitively. Josh, like many others have begun streaming his games and has gained a following on Twitch. I knew that Josh liked to create videos and music, but I never really thought much about it. He has always been interested in it, and loves to learn new things about it. One thing that I learned for the first time about Josh is that he likes art. It never really came across to me how much he liked art, and that he even wants to go to college to learn graphic design. It was cool to learn that he wants to learn how to draw, and how he got into painting. I'm writing this without the photos and can't wait to see the things that he has painted. With the interview done I am more motivated to get to work on this project and can't wait to share the final result

Bio:

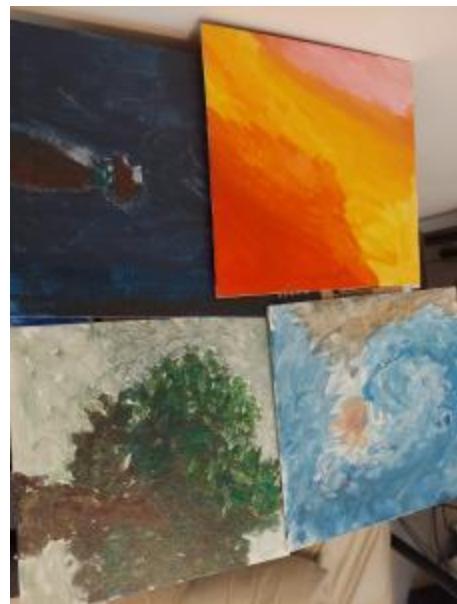

Josh Golan is a young adult from Ohio, who has just recently turned 18 years old. Josh comes from an Italian, Polish, and Russian heritage, and has been learning to speak German for a few years, with hopes to travel around Europe and Asia. Josh's favorite color is Purple and prefers a darker purple. When asked what he likes to do in his downtime, he said "...I like to either do something relaxing, like streaming, or playing some video games with my friends online". Josh loves to stay online on his computer and wants to go to college to learn Graphic design to one day become a Graphic designer.

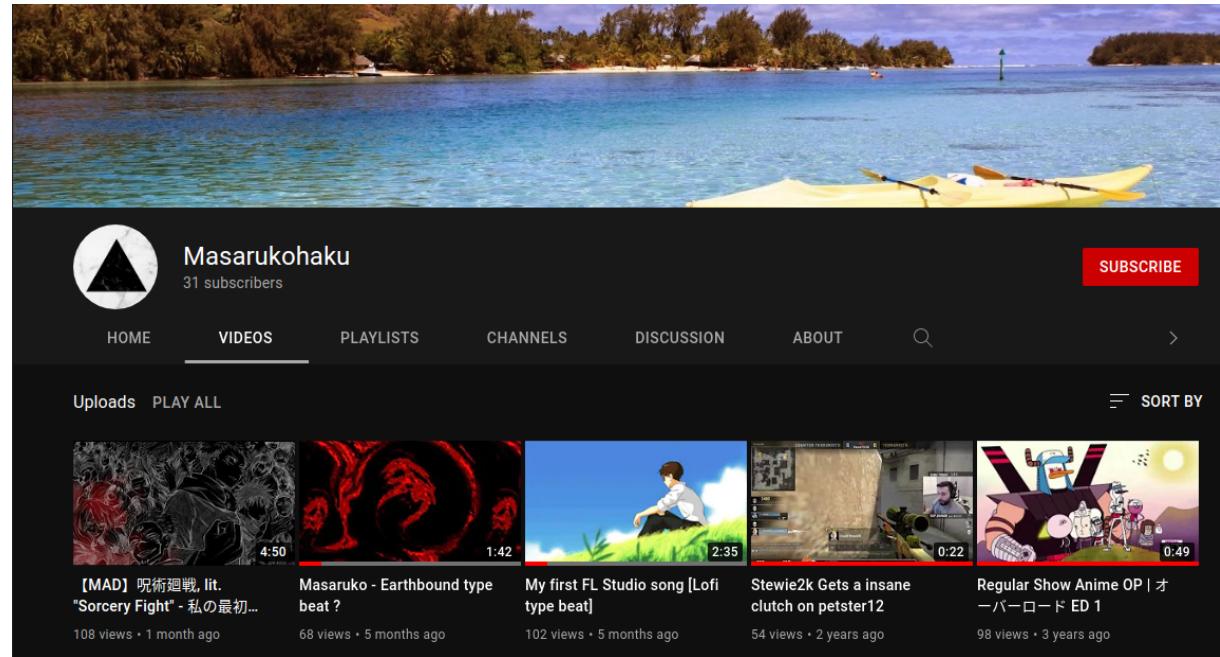

Josh has many hobbies that he enjoys doing, when asked what sort of hobbies he has, he replied: "I like to play video games at a high skill level, I also enjoy producing music and editing videos. I've always had an interest in creating art so I like to paint as well". Josh's notable favorite games include Overwatch, OSU, and Team Fortress 2. Wanting to know more I asked Josh what got him into video games and he told me "I was a young and casual tf2 player who didn't know much about first person shooters. But I instantly fell in love with the team based clash shooter genre. And ever since those days I've been interested in following and joining Esports teams".

Like many teenagers and young adults that grew up using computers, Josh also enjoys creating videos, and producing music, Josh said "I love when these two passions combine, and I can edit things that have music and use my knowledge of both, to produce high quality videos" You can see some of Josh's work on youtube. I finally asked Josh about his painting hobby, and he told me "I've always been interested in learning to draw realistically, but it's never been something that I could grasp. So I looked into painting and had an easier time understanding the concepts. And while I still wasn't able to paint realistically, I felt it was a lot easier and was a much more relaxing artistic outlet."
